Khafim Hussain famous as Rafat is a self-taught artist who has been painting intuitively since childhood. With a natural passion for creating vibrant and expressive visual forms, Rafat found solace in art early on, allowing creativity to flow without formal instruction. This innate drive led RAFAT to develop a unique style, blending raw emotion and vibrant expression. As the years passed, Rafat sought to refine these skills by learning from various art experts and established artists. When these professionals first encountered Rafat's work, they were amazed by the depth and originality of the creations. Inspired by the positive feedback and mentorship, Rafat expanded technically and conceptually, further solidifying its artistic vision. Today, RAFAT continues to push boundaries and evolve, driven by the same passion that sparked their journey into the art world. Rafat also learned from Khana-e-Farhang ,ustad Abdul Majid ,Ustad Abubaker Zahid, Ustad M Akram ,Ustad A. F. Hussain, Ustad Muhammad Ali Zahid.

My work is deeply rooted in the intuitive flow of creation, where each brush or pen stroke feels like a dialogue with the divine. Colors become my language, their shades, and tones blending like the ever-turning color wheel of emotions that reflect my inner world. Through art, I seek to express my feelings in communion with God Almighty, capturing the delicate balance between form and spirit. Playing with the calligraphy font, SUMBULI is an extension of this intimate connection. It is a graceful dance of delicate and eye-catching letters, where colors and text come together to unveil my inner voice. Each canvas is a symphony of hues and words, intertwining to express not just what is seen, but what is felt deeply. SUMBULI, with its unique blend of color and form, becomes the vessel through which my heart speaks directly to the divine.
